

Government Select Series

Supplement to Prospectus and
Statement of Additional Information
Dated October 22, 2021

At the November 19, 2021 special meeting of shareholders (the “Special Meeting”) of PFM Funds (the “Trust”), the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization (the “Plan of Reorganization”) with respect to the Government Select Series (the “Portfolio”) was approved. The Portfolio will reorganize with and into the Government Obligations Fund (the “FAF Fund”), a series of First American Funds, Inc. (“FAF”), pursuant to the Plan of Reorganization and as described in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus mailed to shareholders of record (the “Reorganization”). The Portfolio’s shareholders may purchase and redeem shares of the Portfolio in the ordinary course until the last business day before the closing of the Reorganization, as described in the Portfolio’s prospectus.

In addition, at the Special Meeting shareholders of the Trust approved the proposed new advisory agreement (the “New Advisory Agreement”) to be entered into between the Trust and PFM Asset Management LLC (“PFMAM”), on terms identical to the Trust’s existing advisory agreement with PFMAM. As described in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus, the New Advisory Agreement will be effective during the period from the acquisition of PFMAM by U.S. Bancorp Asset Management, Inc. as a wholly-owned subsidiary through the consummation of the Reorganization.

The date of this Supplement is November 24, 2021.

Please retain this Supplement for future reference.

Fund Summary - Government Select Series Institutional Class

Investment Objective

To provide high current income consistent with stability, safety of principal, and liquidity, and to maintain a stable net asset value of $1.00 per share.

Fees and Expenses

These are the fees and expenses you may pay when you buy, hold and sell shares of the Institutional Class of the Portfolio. You may pay other fees, such as brokerage commissions and other fees to financial intermediaries, which are not reflected in the tables and examples below.

Annual Fund Operating Expenses (expenses that you pay each year as a percentage of the value of your investment)

Management fees	0.09%
Distribution (12b-1) fees	0.00%
Other expenses:	0.11%
Transfer agent fees	0.08%
Other operating expenses	0.03%
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses*	0.20%

 Pursuant to a fee deferral agreement with the Trust, the Adviser may, but is not obligated to, reduce the investment advisory, administration or transfer agent fees payable to it by any share class of the Portfolio to help the Portfolio, or class thereof, as applicable, achieve a more competitive yield. Any fee reduction may be recouped by the Adviser for a period of up to three years following the reduction, but only when the monthly distribution yield of the applicable share class for the calendar month preceding recoupment exceeds 0.50% per annum and provided that the amount of recoupment in any month may not exceed 15% of the aggregate fees that otherwise would be payable to the Adviser for such month.*

Expense Example

This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in shares of the Institutional Class of the Portfolio with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of the period. The example also assumes that you earn a 5% return each year on your investment and that the operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions, your costs would be:

1 year	3 years	5 years	10 years
$21	$64	$113	$255

Principal Investment Strategies

The Portfolio invests at least 99.5% of its total assets in cash and the following instruments:

- Securities issued or guaranteed as to principal or interest by the U.S. government or by its agencies or instrumentalities, including obligations of U.S. banks guaranteed by letters of credit issued by such agencies or instrumentalities;
- Repurchase agreements for securities of the U.S. government, or its agencies or instrumentalities, that are collateralized fully; and
- Shares of other government money market mutual funds.

In addition, under normal market conditions, the Portfolio invests at least 80% of its net assets in U.S. government securities (including securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government or its agencies or instrumentalities), repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully by U.S. government securities and shares of other government money market mutual funds.

The Portfolio maintains a dollar-weighted average portfolio maturity of no more than 60 days and a dollar-weighted life (final maturity, disregarding interest rate adjustments) of no more than 120 days.

Principal Investment Risks

Although the Portfolio invests exclusively in high-quality securities, an investment in the Portfolio – like an investment in any money market fund – is subject to certain risks, such as:

- Interest Rate Risk When short-term interest rates fall, the Portfolio's yield is likely to fall. When interest rates rise, the values of obligations held by the Portfolio may decline. If the rise is sharp or unexpected, the Portfolio's share price could fall.
- Credit Risk The issuer of an obligation could fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner. The credit quality of the Portfolio's holdings could change rapidly in certain markets, and the default or decline in credit quality of even a single holding could cause the Portfolio's share price to fall.
- Government Securities Risk For U.S. government or agency securities not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States (including obligations guaranteed by an agency or instrumentality of the U.S. government), there is no guarantee that the government will intervene in the event of any loss or default.
- Management Risk Performance could be hurt by decisions made by the Adviser, such as choice of investments and timing of buy/sell decisions.

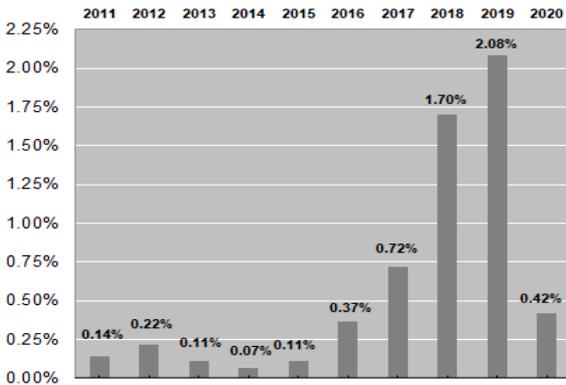

You could lose money by investing in the Portfolio. Although the Portfolio seeks to maintain the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the Portfolio is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The Adviser has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Portfolio, and you should not expect that it will provide financial support to the Portfolio at any time.

Performance

The following information illustrates how Institutional Class Shares have performed over time. Prior to October 3, 2016, the Portfolio was known as Prime Series and, in addition to investing in U.S. government securities, it invested in obligations of U.S. companies, financial institutions and U.S. municipalities. The performance information that follows for dates prior to October 3, 2016 reflects the returns of Prime Series before it began to operate as a government money market fund. For current yield information, call (800) 338-3383. Returns for other classes of shares were different and are not shown here. Past performance does not indicate future results and yields will vary.

Tax Information

Dividends of net investment income and distributions of net realized capital gains are generally taxable to shareholders, but may not be taxable for tax-exempt shareholders. Tax-exempt shareholders should consult with their tax advisers regarding the potential tax implications of investing in the Portfolio.

Fund Details

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Portfolio is to provide high current income consistent with stability, safety of principal, and liquidity, and to maintain a stable net asset value (“NAV”) of $1.00 per share.

This objective may not be changed without the approval of the Portfolio’s shareholders. There is no assurance that the Portfolio will achieve its objective.

Principal Investment Strategies

Portfolio Securities

The Portfolio invests exclusively in high quality, short-term money market instruments which are determined by the Adviser, pursuant to procedures adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Trust (the “Board”), to present minimal credit risks.

The Portfolio invests at least 99.5% of its total assets in cash and the following types of instruments:

U.S. government and agency obligations

- Bills, notes, and bonds issued by the U.S. Treasury.
- Obligations issued or guaranteed by any agency or instrumentality of the U.S. government, such as obligations of Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, Government National Mortgage Association (Ginnie Mae), the Federal Home Loan Banks, and the Federal Farm Credit Banks. These may include obligations of U.S. banks guaranteed by letters of credit issued by an agency or instrumentality of the U.S. government.

Repurchase agreements

- Repurchase agreements for U.S. government or agency obligations that are collateralized fully. Maturity dates of obligations collateralizing repurchase agreements may exceed 397 days.

Other government money market mutual funds

- The Portfolio may also invest in shares of other government money market mutual funds.

Deposit accounts

- Cash assets that are awaiting investment may be placed in a demand deposit account, or other deposit account, with the Portfolio's depository bank.

In addition, under normal market conditions, the Portfolio invests at least 80% of its net assets in U.S. government securities (including securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government or its agencies or instrumentalities), repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully by U.S. government securities and shares of other government money market mutual funds.

Credit support of U.S. government and agency obligations

Obligations of certain agencies and instrumentalities of the U.S. government (such as Ginnie Mae) are supported by the full faith and credit of the United States. Obligations of other U.S. government agencies and instrumentalities, such as obligations of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, are neither guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury nor backed by the full faith and credit of the United States. However, these agencies and instrumentalities may receive some form of federal support. For example, the U.S. Treasury is authorized to purchase specified amounts of securities issued by (or otherwise make funds available to) Freddie Mac, Fannie Mae and Federal Home Loan Banks. Such support may be limited and subject to specified conditions.

Obligations of other agencies and instrumentalities may be supported only by the credit of the agency or instrumentality issuing the obligations.

Further information about portfolio securities is included in the Statement of Additional Information ("SAI").

Liquidity Fees and Temporary Suspensions of Redemptions

Under Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") rules, the Portfolio may voluntarily impose a liquidity fee or temporarily suspend redemptions in the event that the Portfolio's weekly liquid assets fall below 30 percent of its total assets. However, the Board does not presently intend to impose liquidity fees or to suspend redemptions under such circumstances.

Management Policies

The Portfolio is managed in accordance with Rule 2a-7 under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. In keeping with Rule 2a-7, and with procedures established by the Board, the Portfolio limits its investments to those that the Adviser determines to present minimal credit risk, and follows policies designed to maintain a stable share price.

Securities in which the Portfolio invests are denominated in U.S. dollars and have remaining maturities of 397 days (approximately 13 months) or less at the time of purchase. However, the Portfolio may invest in securities having maturities greater than 397 days if certain maturity shortening features (such as interest rate resets or demand features) apply. Securities with maturity shortening features may be deemed to have maturities shorter than their stated maturity dates. In addition, the maturity of obligations collateralizing repurchase agreements may exceed 397 days.

The Portfolio maintains a dollar-weighted average portfolio maturity of not more than 60 days and a dollar-weighted life (final maturity, disregarding interest rate adjustments) of not more than 120 days.

Except as noted otherwise, the Portfolio invests exclusively in securities that carry at least two of the following ratings (or better):

Securities with maturities of 12 months or less

- Moody's: Prime 1
- S&P: A-1
- Fitch: F-1

Securities with maturities greater than 12 months

- Moody's: Aa
- S&P: AA
- Fitch: AA

The Portfolio may invest in any subcategory of the ratings categories shown above.

The Adviser may adjust exposure of the Portfolio to interest rate risk, typically seeking to take advantage of possible rises in interest rates and to preserve yield when interest rates appear likely to fall.

Should the rating categories or providers described here cease to exist, the Adviser would seek to apply comparable successor standards, subject to Board approval.

Policies on Managing Cash for Municipalities and Institutions

The investment objective and investment policies of the Portfolio are designed to support the particular cash management needs of institutions, such as universities, hospitals, insurance entities, independent schools, colleges, and not-for-profit organizations, as well as municipalities, other governmental agencies and political subdivisions and corporations that must manage investments conservatively.

Further information about the Portfolio's investment policies and practices is included in the SAI.

Principal Investment Risks

There are several risk factors that could hurt the Portfolio's performance, cause you to lose money or cause the Portfolio's performance to trail that of other investments.

Interest Rate Risk When short-term interest rates fall, the Portfolio's yield is likely to fall. When interest rates rise, the values of obligations held by the Portfolio may decline. If the rise is sharp or unexpected, the Portfolio's share price could fall.

During periods of unusually low interest rates, the Portfolio's yield may approach zero. Over time, the total return of the Portfolio may not keep pace with inflation.

Credit Risk The issuer of an obligation owned by the Portfolio could fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner. The credit quality of the Portfolio's holdings could change rapidly in certain markets, and the default or decline in credit quality of even a single holding could cause the Portfolio's share price to fall.

Government Securities Risk For U.S. government or agency securities not backed by the full faith and credit of the United States (including obligations guaranteed by an agency or instrumentality of the U.S. government), there is no guarantee that the government will intervene in the event of any loss or default.

Management Risk Portfolio performance could be hurt by investment decisions made by the Adviser, such as choice of investments and timing of buy/sell decisions.

Counterparty Risk A financial institution or other counterparty with which the Portfolio does business (such as trading or custody), or that underwrites, distributes, or guarantees any investments or contracts that the Portfolio owns or is otherwise exposed to, may decline in financial health and become unable to honor its commitments. This could cause losses for the Portfolio or delay the return or delivery of collateral or other assets.

Financial Industry Risk Market price movements, regulatory or technological changes, or economic conditions affecting banks or other financial institutions may have a significant impact on the Portfolio's performance.

Additional Cost Level Risk To the extent that the Portfolio invests in other money market funds rather than investing directly in money market instruments, the Portfolio's shareholders will effectively be paying two or more levels of fund costs, which could reduce yields.

Liquidity Risk If the Portfolio faces an unusual volume of redemption orders, or if it is unable to sell portfolio securities at the desired time or price, the Portfolio's share price could fall.

Regulatory Risk On July 23, 2014, the SEC adopted certain regulatory changes intended to address systemic risks believed to be associated with money market funds and to improve transparency for money market fund investors. In connection with the adoption of these changes, the Portfolio converted to operate as a government money market fund, effective October 3, 2016.

Technology and Cybersecurity Risk Various technologies are used by the Adviser and other service providers in connection with their operations and in providing services to the Portfolio. There is a risk that technology malfunctions, breaches in cybersecurity or other circumstances affecting these technologies may adversely impact the Portfolio's operations (including services available to shareholders and the Portfolio's investment program) or may result in the release of proprietary information concerning the Portfolio or its shareholders, reputational damage to the Portfolio or regulatory violations. In turn, these events may cause the Portfolio to incur penalties, additional costs or financial loss.

You could lose money by investing in the Portfolio. Although the Portfolio seeks to maintain the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the Portfolio is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The Adviser of the Portfolio has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Portfolio, and you should not expect that it will provide financial support to the Portfolio at any time.

Management of the Trust

Board of Trustees

The Board has overall responsibility for supervising the business and affairs of the Trust and the Portfolio, including services provided by the service providers listed below.

Investment Advisory and Administrative Fees

Investment Advisory Fees The Portfolio pays the Adviser an investment advisory fee, accrued daily and payable monthly, which is determined by applying the following annual percentage rates to the average daily net assets of the Portfolio:

Portfolio Net Assets	Rate
First $2 billion	0.07%
Next $3 billion	0.065%
Next $5 billion	0.06%
Over $10 billion	0.05%

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2021, investment advisory fees paid to the Adviser by the Portfolio were $1,196,177 (representing approximately 0.06% of the Portfolio's average daily net assets net of fee waivers). For a discussion of the Board's most recent approval of the investment advisory agreement, see the annual report to shareholders for the year ended June 30, 2021.

Administrator Fees The Portfolio pays the Adviser a fee for administrative services computed at the annual rate of 0.02% of its average daily net assets, accrued daily and payable monthly.

Transfer Agent Fees The Institutional Class pays the Adviser a fee for transfer agent services computed at the annual rate of 0.08% of the average daily net assets of the Portfolio attributable to the class, accrued daily and payable monthly.

Distribution Expenses and Arrangements Under the Trust's 12b-1 plan, shares of the Institutional Class can bear distribution-related services approved by the Board in an amount not exceeding annually 0.25% of the average daily net assets of the Portfolio attributable to the Institutional Class. However, the class does not currently bear any distribution expenses.

PFM Fund Distributors, Inc. may enter into agreements with unaffiliated broker-dealers authorizing them to offer shares of the Portfolio to their customers and pay compensation to those brokers for their services. It may also compensate banks for introducing their customers to cash management programs offered by the Adviser involving investment in the Portfolio. These compensation arrangements may create a conflict of interest by influencing these broker-dealers and banks (or your salesperson) to recommend the Portfolio over another investment. For more information, ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary's website. However, the Portfolio does not pay compensation to any broker-dealers or banks. See "Distribution Arrangements" in the SAI for more information.

Fees and Expenses In addition to paying fees to the Adviser, the Portfolio is responsible for paying directly all costs that are not the responsibility of the service providers. These include:

- Legal and audit fees and disbursements.
- Depository and custodian bank fees and charges.
- Costs of preparation and production of prospectuses and shareholder reports, and costs of printing and distributing reports and prospectuses to shareholders.
- Federal and state securities registration fees.
- Interest, taxes, and other non-recurring or extraordinary expenses, including litigation costs.

Fee Deferrals Pursuant to a fee deferral agreement with the Trust, the Adviser may, but is not obligated to, reduce the investment advisory, administration or transfer agent fees payable to it by any share class of the Portfolio to help the Portfolio, or class thereof, as applicable, achieve a more competitive yield. Any fee reduction may be recouped by the Adviser for a period of up to three years following the reduction, but only when the monthly distribution yield of the applicable share class for the calendar month preceding recoupment exceeds 0.50% per annum and provided that the amount of recoupment in any month may not exceed 15% of the aggregate fees that otherwise would be payable to the Adviser for such month.

Further information about the agreements with various service providers, and the fees and expenses of the Portfolio, is included in the SAI.

Redeeming Shares

You may redeem (sell) shares on any Business Day at their net asset value per share at no charge, as described in the table below. No matter what redemption method you use, you will need to tell us:

- your account number
- the Portfolio and share class name
- how many shares (or the dollar value) you wish to redeem

Receiving Your Redemption Proceeds Promptly

To help assure that you promptly receive your redemption proceeds, you should set up redemption payment arrangements in advance.

Wire Transfers Designate the bank account to receive redemption proceeds and give us complete wire instructions for that account. The bank account must be in your name or the name of an agent acting for you.

ACH Transfers Contact us and obtain the necessary forms to set up that service. To have the redemption proceeds sent to a third party, request the additional form necessary for this service.

Redemption Checks Contact us to order a book of checks. Be aware that certain checkwriting fees may apply. Contact us for more information.

Once your redemption payment method(s) are in place, follow the instructions in the table below. Payment of redemption proceeds usually will be made within the timeframe described in the table, but could be delayed up to seven days. Note that if you are redeeming shares that you recently bought by check, your payment could be delayed up to 15 days if the purchase check has not yet cleared.

We charge no fee for payment of redemption proceeds by wire or ACH transfer. However, your receiving institution may charge a fee to receive money we send by one of these methods.

Method	Instructions	Payment terms
By wire transfer	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Have an authorized person call us to place the order, or• Place your order through www.pfmfunds.com.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• If we receive your request before 2:00 P.M. If you do not have enough shares, we will return the check for insufficient funds.

By ACH

- Have an authorized person call us to place the order. Be sure to indicate whether the money should deposit into your account or a pre-established third-party account.
- If we receive your request before 2:00 P.M. Eastern Time, we will process the transfer the next Business Day. Otherwise, we will process it the second Business Day. Once the transfer is processed, the recipient must still allow time for it to clear before it is available to be drawn upon.

By mail

- Send us a letter of instruction, containing all information described above and with properly authorized signature(s).
- Confirm in your letter that the bank account and wire instructions we have for your account are current.
- To change your bank account or wire instructions, contact us.
- We will wire redemption proceeds as soon as practicable once we have received and accepted your request.

Dividends and Distributions

The Portfolio declares dividends daily and pays them to shareholders on the last Business Day of each month. Your dividends will be reinvested in additional shares of your class of the Portfolio unless you contact the Transfer Agent and make arrangements to receive cash dividends.

Shares begin earning dividends the day you purchase them. They do not earn a dividend for the day they are redeemed. If you redeem all of your shares and request that your account be closed, you will be paid dividends declared through the Business Day prior to the redemption date.

The Trust's Policies

Calculating Net Asset Value (NAV) per Share

The Portfolio calculates the NAV per share of each class of its shares as of 2:00 P.M. Eastern Time each Business Day, except that on any day on which SIFMA has called for an early close of trading in the bond market, NAV per share will be determined as of close of trading in the bond market on that day. To calculate NAV per share, the Portfolio first subtracts its total liabilities from its total assets, with class specific liabilities allocated to each respective class, then divides the result by the number of outstanding shares for each respective class. The Portfolio follows rules of the SEC when valuing its assets and uses the amortized cost valuation method to determine the value of securities held by the Portfolio. This valuation method takes into account any premiums or discounts to the face value of securities the Portfolio buys. However, under this method, changes in interest rates do not generally affect the value of securities.

How Purchase and Redemption Prices are Determined

The purchase price for your shares will be the NAV per share next determined after the Portfolio's depository bank has received your full payment in Federal Funds and you have met all other requirements for purchasing shares. The redemption price for your shares will be the NAV per share next determined after we receive your redemption request in proper form.

Purchasing by electronic funds transfer (ACH)

For transfers you initiate:

Request received before 2:00 P.M. Eastern Time. Your shares will be purchased at the NAV per share determined on the next Business Day.

Request received after 2:00 P.M. Eastern Time. Your shares will be purchased at the NAV per share determined on the second Business Day after receipt of the request.

For transfers initiated by a third party:

Your shares will be purchased at the NAV per share determined on the Business Day when the Portfolio's depository bank receives the funds (normally the Business Day following the day the transfer is initiated).

How Redemption Prices are Determined for ACH Redemptions

In the case of redemptions by ACH, your shares will be redeemed at the NAV per share determined on the redemption date once we have received your ACH redemption request in proper form.

Frequent Purchases and Redemptions of Shares

The Board has determined not to adopt a policy regarding the frequent purchase and redemption of shares because the Portfolio is a money market fund that has adopted policies designed to stabilize its share price at $1.00 and invests exclusively in money market instruments. Under these circumstances, it is not expected that the frequent purchase and redemption of shares will adversely impact the Portfolio.

Additional Services

The Portfolio, through its depository bank, offers certain cash management services at no extra charge, including:

- servicing multiple accounts
- providing detailed account information on request
- assisting with the specialized accounting and recordkeeping required under the Internal Revenue Code arbitrage rebate provisions that apply to the earnings on proceeds of tax-exempt bonds

Additional services are available for a fee. For information on services, call (800) 338-3383.

Information on Portfolio Holdings

The Portfolio discloses its holdings online monthly and in shareholder reports that are issued twice a year.

Further information on the Trust's policy on the disclosure of portfolio holdings is included in the SAI.

Rights Reserved by the Trust

The Trust reserves the right to do the following:

- add, change, or eliminate account minimums at any time without advance notice

- refuse any investment from any party for any reason
- close any account that, as a result of one or more redemptions, has a balance below the minimum required account balance, upon 60 days' written notice (exception: we will not do this in the case of shareholders that formerly invested in the Cash Management Class of the Portfolio or Government Series, a previously existing series of the Trust)
- limit the frequency of purchases for any reason
- redeem shares in kind (fulfill a request to redeem shares by distributing Portfolio securities rather than cash) if the Board determines that paying the proceeds of a redemption in cash would be detrimental to the other shareholders (the Trust believes that the chance of such in-kind payments is remote)

Share Classes of the Portfolio

The Trust may issue multiple classes of shares of the Portfolio that may have fees and expenses that differ based on differences in services provided to the particular classes. To the extent different classes bear different fees and expenses, their investment returns will differ. Certain classes may be available for purchase only by investors meeting certain eligibility requirements. As of the date of this Prospectus, only the Institutional Class of the Portfolio is offered.

Tax Information

The Portfolio intends to distribute all of its taxable income to investors. You are responsible for paying any required taxes on the distributions you receive.

We have highlighted some basic tax information below. Please consult your tax advisor regarding the federal, state and local tax consequences of investing in the Portfolio.

The Portfolio intends to qualify, as a “regulated investment company” under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code. So long as the Portfolio so qualifies, it will not pay Federal income taxes on its net investment income and net realized capital gains it distributes to shareholders. If the Portfolio has any net long-term capital gains, it intends to distribute those gains in accordance with the timing requirements imposed by Subchapter M.

Federal Taxes

Distributions from the Portfolio will generally be taxable whether you receive them in cash or reinvest them in additional shares. Each year the Trust will let you know what portion of your distributions will be treated as long-term capital gains rather than ordinary income and what portion, if any, is attributable to tax-exempt interest income from state or local bonds.

If you sell or exchange shares at a higher price than you paid for them, you may owe taxes on the resulting capital gain. On the other hand, if you sell shares at a lower price than you paid and did not receive distributions that represented a return of your capital, you may be able to claim a capital loss on your tax return.

You must certify that you have provided your correct tax identification number and that you are not subject to backup withholding under federal law. Otherwise, we are required by law to withhold a percentage of distributions and redemption proceeds that are paid to you.

State and Local Taxes

Your dividends and distributions may be subject to state and local taxes. In some states and localities, the portion of dividends that comes from interest the Portfolio has earned on certain U.S. government securities (or from certain repurchase agreements involving U.S. government securities) may be exempt from tax. However, this would not preclude a state or locality from assessing other taxes relating to the ownership of U.S. government securities, such as intangible property taxes.

Special Tax Considerations for States and Municipalities

State and municipal investors should consult with their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of investing in shares of the Portfolio. Relevant considerations may include Sections 103 and 115(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, which provide that the gross income of a state or political subdivision does not include income derived from the exercise of any essential government function. Also, states and municipalities may be required to pay to the U.S. Treasury a portion of earnings they derive from the investment of funds that are subject to the arbitrage limitations or rebate requirements of the Internal Revenue Code.

Financial Highlights

The following table is intended to help you understand the financial performance of the Institutional Class of the Portfolio. Certain information reflects financial results for a single share. The financial highlights for the five years ended June 30, 2021, along with the financial statements of Government Select Series, have been audited by Ernst & Young LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, and are included in the PFM Funds Annual Report for the year ended June 30, 2021. The Annual Report, along with the financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2021, is incorporated by reference into (and considered part of) the SAI, which is available upon request.

Effective October 3, 2016, Government Select Series adopted a policy to invest at least 99.5% of its total assets in cash and the following types of high quality, short-term investments: U.S. government securities (including securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government or its agencies or instrumentalities) ("U.S. Government Securities"); repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully by U.S. Government Securities; and shares of other money market funds that invest exclusively in the types of obligations in which Government Select Series is authorized to invest. It also adopted, effective on such date, a policy under which it invests, under normal market conditions, at least 80% of its net assets in U.S. Government Securities, repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully by U.S. Government Securities, and shares of other money market funds that invest exclusively in these securities. Prior to October 3, 2016, Government Select Series was known as Prime Series and invested in a broader range of money market obligations, including obligations of U.S. companies, financial institutions and municipalities. Investment performance for periods prior to October 3, 2016 is not reflective of the performance that Government Select Series would have achieved under its current investment policies.

For More Information

The Trust sends each shareholder annual reports containing independently audited financial statements of the Portfolio, as well as semi-annual reports containing unaudited financial statements of the Portfolio. The Trust also provides monthly account summaries to shareholders, which describe dividends paid and shares purchased through dividend reinvestment, as well as confirmations of all purchase and redemption transactions. Other individual account information is available upon request.
